Preface	1
Theory #1: Adam and Eve: More than meets the eye	6
A view of the creation story that goes beyond traditional interpretations to explain, in unique and, we believe, much richer terms, the purpose of the first two chapters of Genesis.
Theory #2: Who is this God? A deeper look	18
What are the deeper implications of the view expressed in Theory #1? How should this impact my thinking, my view of the world and how I conduct myself in it, but most especially how I relate to this God?
Theory #3: Love Lost, Love Regained or How did the Devil get into God's illustration?	28
Chapter 3 gives us a look behind the scenes at the evil realm and attempts to explain, from a legal perspective, how and why Satan was permitted into the Garden of Eden.
Theory #4: Jesus: "God in a Man-suit"?	40
Many teach that Jesus, because He was God in human flesh, could not have sinned. We take a different perspective and we explain why.
Theory #5: God's Prophetic Calendar	56
A brief look at various prophetic devices that God has built into His revelation, revealing in even greater clarity the magnificence of His plan.
The Passover Chart	74
A detailed look at the prophetic fulfillment of the Spring Feast cycle.

Theory #6: God’ Redemptive Calendar	75
Moving into the section that focuses on where we are in the prophetic timetable, this theory looks at the architecture of the creation week for insights into the current order of events.
Redemption Chart	85
A chart showing the One Day = A Thousand Years timeline.
Theory #7: The “Times of the Gentiles”: Those who have insight will understand	86
This chapter offers a different twist on the standard interpretation of the “times of the Gentiles,” one that we think is more in keeping with the biblical chronology. We also take a stab at closing in on the timing of Christ’s return. And yet, an interesting verse in Matthew adds an unexpected twist.
Bible Timeline	104
A two-page layout of historically significant events and their implications for the future.
Theory #8: The Time is Coming When No Man Can Work	106
A unique view of the verse in John 9 that describes “a coming night,” we attempt to elucidate this prophecy more accurately than we’ve seen it done elsewhere.
Theory #9: The Anti-Christ’s Identity	112
Who will this man of sin, the Anti-Christ, be? Though we name no names, we narrow the field and take a view that is slowly growing in popularity among end-times sages.
Theory #10: Satan: Counterfeiter-in-Chief	130
Just as Satan counterfeited the biblical prophecies of the first coming of a Redeemer, turning them into the Babylonian mystery religion, so he will again attempt to counterfeit prophecies referencing the end-time appearing of that same Redeemer.

Theory #11: The Mark of the Beast	135
A description of the most likely implications of the prophecy in Revelation 13 and what it means for those inside and outside the church.
Theory #12: The Beast, the Ten Horns, the Seven Heads, and Mystery Babylon	142
A brief examination of the most bandied about theories for the identity of these three entities, with our own view amply supported.
Theory #13: The Rapture: Who goes, who stays and why	194
A discussion of the Rapture and the implications for this doctrine in light of earlier theories.
Afterword: An exhortation	240
Appendix A: Salvation: What it is and how you get it or Who's your daddy?	249
This section gives a comprehensive explanation of the content and means of salvation in light of earlier theories.
Appendix B: Repentance: Who, what, when, why and how?	275
Guidelines and sample prayers.
Appendix C: Eternal Security	291
Once Saved Always Saved? Another look at this doctrine from the perspective of earlier chapters.
Appendix D: The Trinity	297
Are there really three separate and co-equal Persons in the one God?
Appendix E: The Cain Controversy	311
Going beyond the “Whom did Cain marry?” controversy, this theory looks at the entire scope of this issue in more detail and with an hitherto unbroached (as far as we know) solution.
